Thieves Get $150
Making Entrance
Through Skylight

At some hour during Friday night, thieves entered the store of Morris Kanner, corner of Lemon and Fourth streets, and robbed the safe of between $140 and $150, according to the report of the proprietor after he had checked up. Shoes and clothing were also missing, but the quantity stolen in those lines were estimated at a no great sum.

When the store was opened yesterday a ladder was found suspended from the skylight, material was strewn about the floor, and papers and documents littered the office. Police authorities were immediately summoned, and an investigation followed. A pair of old shoes in very bad condition were found on the roof of the building, and inside the store were found evidences that the socks of the robber had been changed.

Mr. Kanner feels confident that the robbery was committed by a strange negro who entered the store to make purchases late Friday afternoon, and officers are looking for such a man. Surrounding towns have been advised to be on the lookout.
